Join a Professional Development Institute to gain a deeper understanding of AI and learn about a valuable, FREE tool - IBM SkillsBuild, for your students.

This exclusive initiative is tailored for selected high school educators and requires a 10-hour commitment - 2 hours in virtual sessions and 8 hours of self-guided work.

What You'll Get:

- A personalized experience, alongside peers, to understand IBM SkillsBuild and its vast resources to prepare students for future careers.
- Continuing education, with the possibility of earning continuing education credit - at no cost.
- A clear path for introducing AI (and other valuable skills) to your students.
- Access to a professional development community of other educators also interested in AI and how to best serve students.
- White glove support to provide technical assistance in your learning journey and hands-on support for your students, if requested.
- Knowledge to navigate AI and AI ethics.
